

Imagine if you really had magical powers.

How would you make the four aces appear?

Picture bringing your hands together, and an ace magically appears between them.

Without hesitation, you take this newly-produced card, and split it into two aces. The audience is riveted - they do not want to blink for fear of missing your next move.

The third ace materializes out of thin air - at your fingertips.

For the finale, the cards are held motionless and the final ace visually appears with the other three aces. Your audience stands speechless - they cannot believe what they have just witnessed.

Four aces sit attractively displayed at your fingertips. No gimmicks or trickery - just well-composed sleight of hand.

In less than thirty seconds, you have engaged your audience with some of the most elegant and powerful card magic possible.

They swear it is some sort of high-tech optical illusion, but you secretly know - this is Thunderbird: The Modern Ace Production.
